ZERO WEATHER WOULD AGAIN PLAY HAVOC, HOWEVER.

MINE SHIPMENT RECORD

While there is no apparent justificasituation in Indiana today, it was said A. Robinson, the brakeman, said he called to the boys a short time before fuel administrator, that the domestic and ordered them off the train, but that situation is somewhat improved over conditions of a week ago. This improvement has been due to the moder-body was sent to the city morgue. Liszt ate weather, and zero temperatures, officials say, would again play havoc with fuel conditions in the state.

The mine shipment records indicate that coal is being shipped to all parts of the state. The discouraging feature however, is that this coal is moving in such quantity as will meet only current needs and does not enable the localities to get any considerable surplus.

More than 2,000 cars of emergency coal on order of the fuel administrator would be required to clean the slate. but the mines have failed to catch up on these orders, despite the fact that under the federal fuel administrator's order of January 17 almost all commerorder of January 17 almost all commercial orders are ignored. If the weather continues moderate next week, it is hoped that the mines will be able to catch up on the emergency orders and that the situation will be materially relieved.

Mayor Charles W. Jewett will appear the Company was the government's agent and there should be no interference the city council at a special from the fleet corporation.

Replying to Senator Vardaman, Towle expressed the opinion that general continues.

Unloading of Freight.

It was announced at the fuel administration office that it was desirable for manufacturing and wholesale concerns to see to it that freight is unloaded on every day in the year, a pair of women's shoes at the CurmeFeltman shoe store. He also attempted to buy other women's apparel at several local department stores with the checks amounting in all to $150, but he did not realize anything on them.
